IDENTICAL TWINS

Sebastian and Viola — often the cause of confusion and amusement, yet to the discriminating they were not identical. Mathematical axioms tell us that things that are equal to the same things are equal to each other. Yet such obvious truths do not transcend into human relations.

“Anything that is mended is but patched, virtue that transgresses is but patched with sin and sin that amends is but patched with virtue—something quite similar in the realm of theology, but not identical.”

Restaurant sanitation to the superficial observer may seem alike on the surface. But you can't legislate personal sanitation on the unclean and diseased.

However, sanitation by an intelligent conscience and a personal volition with a golden rule complex will dispense food that is not only good enough for customers, but that most discriminating class—the employees themselves.

The COLLEGE INN always seeks students and other co-laborers whose lives are clean. While not identical with sanitation we believe it is the closest approach to a synonymous twin. As the clown would say—better a witty fool than a foolish wit.
